anniversary of the anarchists in Chicago.

Thirty-five hundred people stood in a cold, drizzling rain at Waldheim cemetery and paid tribute, with speech and song, to the memory of "The Martyred," strewn with wreaths and flowers the graves of the five men, who were condemned by law, for participation in the Haymarket riot—August Spies, George Engel, Albert Parsons, Adolph Fischer and Louis Ling.

Great earnestness and enthusiasm and general good order characterized the celebration of the men and women who dedicated to the world a monu-

On the day of the parade, hundreds of thousands of people lined the streets of New Orleans. At 10 o'clock in the morning, but before the procession moved, fifteen hundred men and women were in line, as they marched to the Grand Central depot, accompanied by bands playing the Marseillais and the dead march from "Saul," they were watched with interest by many who had stationed themselves on the sidewalks along the route. At the station two special trains to convey the crowd to the cemetery, where the graves were lavishly decorated with flowers and the monument, which marks the burial place of the five men, was placed a floral garland from which were suspended, by rows of similar five crimson roses. "Murdered, But Not Dead," was the inscription set in carnations. On the pedestal were Spier's dying words, as the noose was tightened about his neck, "Our silence will be more powerful than words could be." No red flags were displayed in the demonstration, but all of the floral emblems bore red streamers and that color prevailed.

DEMAND UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

Laboring Men in Belgium Promise to Make Things Lovely.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 6.—An immense meeting of workmen was held here today to protest against the action of the house committee on the suffrage question. Agitators made violent speeches, which were cheered. They urged the men to show deputies that the people of Belgium would have their rights, even if it was necessary to take them by force. The meeting passed a resolution that on Tuesday all the workmen of Brussels, accompanied by delegations of workmen from other cities, should march in a body to Chambers shouting for universal suffrage. Inflammatory addresses to the workmen have been issued by socialist leaders, and there is every prospect of a riotous demonstration.

BETRAYED BY HIS WIFE.
Turkish Sultan's Favorite Physician Arrested for Keeping a Diary.
 CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 6.—NAVROYENI Pasha, the Sultan's favorite physician, has been arrested in consequence of his revengeful wife sending to the sultan her husband's diary, in which daily notes were made of the variable conditions of the sultan's mind. Navroyni Pasha had been a trusted friend and confidant since the latter's childhood. He married a French Jewess, whose scandalous life has twice involved him in disgrace and finally compelled him to apply for a divorce.

WILL BE A TOTAL LOSS.
Divers Assert the Warship Howe Can Not Be Repaired.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The British warship Howe, which stranded on the Ferrol bar, has not been floated, and her total loss is inevitable. The crew is completely submerged, while her poop deck stands out of the water. The vessel is falling over the starboard side, and her decks are at such an angle that her guns are shifting against her starboard bulwarks. Divers state that her keel is destroyed and that it will be impossible to repair her. The officers and crew of the Howe have

7-month-old child of Robert Barnham. For some time it was noticed that the child was suffering intense pain, and all the efforts of a physician to relieve it were useless. No one could tell what the matter was until the pins were noticed in the child's excreta. Then the nurse girl was accused of forcing the baby to swallow them. She at first denied it, claiming that the baby itself had swallowed them. She finally broke down, however, and acknowledged that she had stuffed a number of pins into the mouth of the baby.

The baby has already passed a dozen pins. It is in a critical condition.

PANAMA, via Galveston, Nov. 6.—The Frenchmen interested in the Panama canal have applied to the Columbian government for an extension of one year in the time allowed for resuming work. This extension will probably be granted in case the applicants pay well for it. According to agreement of the government with M. Napoleon Bonaparte of the judicial liquidation, the new company must resume work on or before February 28, 1893, or the commission would lapse.

since he returned. Mr. Peterson referred, only indirectly, to the division in the church. He said in this connection merely that he desired lovingly to represent the whole church and not part of it, and he asked for the prayers of the whole congregation that his labors might be effective.
